

2023 LILY'S IRIS

ABOUT THE SEASON

The 2023 growing season in Paso Robles' Willow Creek District was defined by a cooler-than-usual summer and plenty of winter rain, giving the vines the perfect balance of moisture and a slower ripening cycle. The extended hang time allowed for a more even and nuanced development of the grapes, leading to wines with fresh, vibrant acidity and deep, layered flavors. A later harvest brought complexity and balance, making the 2023 vintage from Willow Creek stand out for its refined character and structure.

TASTING NOTE

Lilly's Iris 2023 is a light and refreshing white wine crafted from a blend of Rhône varietals. Dominated by Grenache Blanc, with a touch of Viognier, Roussanne, and Marsanne, this wine offers a delicate balance of floral and citrus notes. It's crisp and vibrant, with bright acidity that makes it perfect for warm days. The wine is elegant, with subtle layers of flavor that unfold gently on the palate, leaving a clean and refreshing finish that invites another sip.
